

PREDICTIONS FOR THIRD QUARTER, 2011

Channeled on July 2, 2011

We are here. We know that your purpose is in regard to your predictions for this next quarter of your year. We will say to you that there will be turmoil in many areas for this quarter. Not because you need to believe in it, but rather because things need to be cleared, cleansed, shifted, moved. The Earth will be doing her part, but so will the energies coming from outside of the planet.

We will say that there will be something akin to a pandemic, but it will not be in a physical sense, but rather in an energetic sense in regard to your emotional stability. This is energy that will be running through various people on your planet, one to the other, in a type of panic mode that will seem like it is indeed contagious. What it is is a resistance to energy flow that then creates an attitudinal problem in regard to the fears.

Sue saw a sign recently that said "Please do not feed the fears." We would say that that would be a good thing to put up everywhere. Fears are going to be fed quite heavily in this quarter --- talks of war, talks of economic decline, talks of diseases, talks of energetic and planetary changes, talks of... you name the category, and the it will be there and the fear will be behind it 100%, 200%, perhaps 300%, with those who wish to control, they will be searching and seeking for ways. Interestingly enough, there will be a shift in the people who will be letting go of it (fear) also.

The people who will be learning to let go of fear will be people who have been working in light for sometime. The people who worked in the light and then let it go, let it alone, stopped working on, stopped striving for, all those people who have chosen to leave it behind them will have a greater difficulty than those who have not. The reason being is that they think that they were wrong or that they should have/would have/could have been something different than what they became, and therefore they have put a different priority and importance upon this information. So it will be more difficult in some ways for these people who have been there before because they are falsely aware of their own light.

These may be the ones that will be promoting the fears that we speak of. Most of them will not know that they are promoting fear. Most of them will think that they are doing good deeds.

You will all have some... we will say challenges determining what is a fear more so and what is not. A lot of it will be how does the information strike you. How does it feel within your physicalities? For if you can feel it in your heart center, then you will know that it is inappropriate information, If it does not make sense to you in your mind, it will also make itself be known as inappropriate information. Just make yourself aware of how you are responding to some of the information that is out there. You will all have to be more cautious with the negative agendas that are out there, the conspiracy theories that are everywhere, the people who will use conspiracy theory to convince you you are not a "Sheeple", and yet, in believing only that, you become the "Sheeple" they speak of. You will all have to become more aware of those charismatic people who are trying to convince you. Perhaps that is the key – if you are being convinced, if someone feels a need to convince you, then you must look at what it is they feel a need to convince you of. Determine whether that is right or wrong for you in that given moment, not forever, not for the day before, and not for the day after, but in that moment right then, is this appropriate for you. If it is, then by all means, accept it. If it is not, then by all means, do not spread the information. Do not pass it on to others. Do not try to argue with it. Do not try to show them where they are incorrect, for these things will not work. Simply do not accept. Simply do not allow it in. Simply allow yourself to say, 'hmm', and move on. In understanding this, your ability to stay out of fear will be greatly increased. Since more and more will want you to be in fear, it will be important for you to be always on guard about it.

EARTH CHANGES

We will say to you as we have been saying, there is a change on every continent. All the changes are related to the elements. Every season that you have will be different than you have planned. So, if your scientists are saying it will be mild, it will not. If they are saying it will be terrible, it will not. It will not be as predicted ever in any place upon the globe. So they are saying it will be a mild season for. . . . , know that it will be a crazy season.

Know also that you will see whatever is happening in groups. So when you are talking about your hurricanes, it will not be one, and then a great deal of time in between that and the next, but rather one and then another and then another, and then a rest. If you are talking about your tornadoes, it will be the same, or you are talking about your cyclones, it will be the same. If you look at what is happening upon the Earth from an earthquake point of view, we will say the same is true there. There will be earthquake after earthquake after earthquake and then a bit of a rest. Once she has a volcano erupt the same thing will happen, volcano after volcano after volcano, and then a rest. The rest will never be enough to truly, to truly get you back to a place of start before new things come in.

The best we can say to you in the Earth changes is to not expect the Earth to quiet, but rather to expect her to continue the way she has been going, which is

- to release the toxins that she has had to swallow while you have lived upon her surface,
- to release those things that have become trapped in one way or another within her,
- to cleanse those things she is releasing,
- to be working with the elements of earth, air, fire, and water So your burnings will increase.

You, because you are such a stubborn species, have to be hit over the head about what you have before you recognize how not to destroy it. And since it is destroyed by Mother Nature first, and then you will not have its use, then you will be awakening and probably crying in your beer, as the saying is, that you did not take better care to begin with.

Where Earth is concerned, note that there will be no quiet areas on your planet anywhere. There will be no places that there is not something happening. You will hear of some of it. You will not hear of most of it. We will say that the attitude of the people in the area will make a huge difference as to how the Earth handles her cleansing. You will get a sense of where the greater change will be coming from, the grassroots, so to speak of shifting.

So for those people who are against, please know that is not possible. You cannot be a worker of light and be against anything. You cannot say on one level that you are here to help clear the Earth, to work with her on her own cleansing process, and then turn around and say that you are against those people who got her here to begin with for that is contradictory, even though you may not yet see it as such.

We will say to you if there are organizations that wish to help, by all means join and help. If there are organizations that wish to help in, or we will say allegedly help by going against those they have judged as the bad guys, we would say those are not the organizations to join, for they are working from fear. They are not working from love. Look around your planet and note the areas that are calming. These are the areas that have finally started recognizing, on an individual basis, that the people there are now working from a different perspective than they were before.

SCIENCE AND MEDICINE

It is almost contradictory to believe that science and medicine can be improving at this time, and yet we will say to you you will learn more of cold fusion. We have spoken of this before. We will say to you that you will learn more about energy. The difficulty will be who will hear of these discoveries? Who will be supporting these discoveries? Who will be the one putting the word out that look, you have found a way to get through your issues around energy? Again, those who are responsible for promoting fear are still in the grip of their own fear of losing that control.

We will say there will be great strides in science. Science is going to be discovering more and more about things like what Sue is doing now, discovering more and more about alternative sources of energy because it is no longer going to be looking outside for the source, but recognizing that the power is on the inside. We are talking on many metaphorical levels when we say that.

We will say that science will be making strides in medicine as well for the same reasons. When you go to the inside of the physicality to work on the physicality, it makes more sense than bringing something from the outside in for you have what you need within your physicality for all that is happening within the physicality. That is how you were designed. As the energy continues and your DNA is continued to be activated on multiple levels, you will find that bodies will not be what bodies used to be. There will be strange and different issues coming from these openings and some of them will again come from fear. Those people who can stay out of fear will be recognizing that they can cure themselves instantaneously. They have the ability to align themselves energetically for the perfection of what they truly are versus in the attitude of the masses of having something “wrong” with the bodies.

We will say that science and medicine will be working together but differently, since both of them are discovering the inner workings of compassion, the inner workings of knowledge that have nothing to do with the scientific process. Scientists will become more compassionate through need of compassion to create. Your medical practitioners will become more compassionate with the understanding of the internal structuring giving the answers to all things.

There can be great strides in this quarter, but again, we do not know who will be listening. We will say to you if you hear about a new cure, if you hear about a new energy modality, if you hear about change that seems...we will call it unusual or perhaps too good to be true, we will ask you still to research. We will ask you to check it out for the more people who become aware of this information, the more the information will get out to the masses. The more it gets out to the masses, the more hope the masses have for their own ... we will say in your way of thinking, upward mobility, on their own level of living complete and total lives, rather than lives of destitution or lives of worry or lives of what we have always seen, which is fear.

So we will say that where science and medicine are concerned that this can be a quarter that will produce much information for the general public, if the general public is willing to listen. There will be inroads into new ways of doing things, but nothing will be cast in concrete as yet, nothing will yet be embraced in this quarter, but perhaps soon, but the inroads will be made.

POLITICS & GOVERNMENT

We know that this is not the comedy category, and yet we find it funny.

Politics and government as you know it to be in this day and at this stage has always been a controlling factor in all lives. It does not matter if you are from a small country or from one of the big bullies. Everyone has been under the thumb of what they call their government. Depending upon who you speak to, they will tell you it is the other person's fault. It does not matter what their party is. There is never contentment with how things are ruled. One of the reasons for this is because the individuals have not as yet figured out that they must be able to rule themselves before they allow themselves to be ruled by others.

We have spoken to you in meditation that the individual power is no greater and no less than your group power. If anything, when you are in your place of power, nothing can equal that. So when you join together, one to the other, what you are doing is you are creating for yourselves a new kind of power and ability to gain what you wish for that has nothing to do with the outside governing. So think of that a moment and recognize that what we are speaking of has nothing to do with your governmental issues. You can allow the governments to do as they are going to choose to do. and there is not a whole lot you can do to change it, even in your voting in those countries where voting matters.

What we will say instead is if you get enough people together with the same attitude, with the same focus, with the same understanding, it will not matter what the government is saying or doing. What will matter will be that group of people believing in themselves and understanding their individual power that stems from their core outward.

The core of your government at this point in time is quite rotted. It is not for this country, but all countries that we look upon upon your planet. When we say this to you, we are not in anyway condoning or condemning anyone or how they rule. We are instead looking at the individuals and seeing the power that is there that is not being utilized in this moment.

So we will say that your governmental issues around your globe will not change by much. That there is still going to be fear revolving around these things, and as long as they see themselves as against someone or something, as long as they see things as right or wrong or good or bad, as long as they try to bring in everybody's opinion only to discover that no one's opinion will matter, there will not be a true governing of people at all.

When the people recognize that the governing starts from within, on the individual basis to start, and that you then begin attracting people who have the same attitudinal issues that you do, with that gathering of people, you start governing on a different level than the way you have governed before.

The whole concept of government is old fashioned. The whole concept of allowing these people to represent everyone is not working, has not worked, will not work in the future.

However, the concept of allowing the individual to see the individual responsibility and work accordingly will be the beginning and the change. This whole idea and concept will gradually be coming to the front in this quarter. It will not by any means be established. It will not by any means be real before the end of the quarter, but what will be happening within this quarter will be an individual understanding of responsibilities. We do not mean it from a 'this is a good thing to do or a bad thing to do', but rather this is where the power lies. It lies within. This is where the understanding lies. It lies within. This is where the knowledge lies. It lies within. It will come away from the prejudicial information that you see so often when you start speaking of governmental ways and policies.

So we will say to you to expect in this quarter regarding your government that there will be greater shakeups. There will be things that will have to be taken apart in order to be put together again in another way. There will be governments that will fall apart only to be taken over by others later on. There will be a lot of old, old, old animosity coming out in this quarter.

You, as individuals, will have to look at this animosity not from the position of whose side am I on, but rather from the position of why is this continuing. There is no particular purpose or reason other than ego and greed. And once ego is recognized, everything then can shift, but it needs to be recognized. It needs to be held up and looked at. It needs to be debated. It needs to be understood. And that comes again from the individual and not from the way governments are structured.

Once you understand these things, it will be amazing how quickly some of these policies will be able to be reinforced. But until that time, all you can do in the quarter that is coming up is to be as honest about what you have to say as you can be. Do not keep your opinions to yourself. Feel free to voice your opinions provided you do not try to voice them in a way that is to convince others. Rather voice them a way that is to say, 'these are the facts as I know them.' and not to ask for any support along the way.

FINANCE AND ECONOMY

We will ask you all, can you say ouch! This is going to be a giant wound by the end of this quarter. The restructuring that is happening has never had a precedent before now, and the restructuring that is happening is creating this difficulty in the minds and, we will say, in the wallets of many people who in the past have never had to worry about these things. You will be seeing in this particular quarter a great deal of sinking or swimming. There will be a lot of extreme thinking, extreme spending, extreme poor. There will be a lot of roller coaster information coming from various sources. There will be the charismatic who will be out there telling you how to have more. There will be the pious who will be out there telling you why you need less. There will be those who follow the in-between track, simply working on their own survival skills. But we will caution you all, as we have in the past, to tell you that when you are in positions like this, all you are doing is responding to the outside stimulus and not recognizing that you are indeed always taken care of. And that is what you need to remember in this particular quarter as the energy shifts and changes.

Do not worry about those things you are charging, as we have heard you discuss them. Do not worry about whether in charging these people will pay these prices or not. Do not allow yourself to be led in the direction that your survival depends on the outside influences, but rather, recognize that your survival depends on your inside influences.

Your inside influences have a knowledge that is far greater than you could possibly or conceivably have outside of yourself. Within this knowledge, what you can do, what you can understand, what you can accomplish will be greater than anything you have ever done before once you let go of your preconceived notion of what success actually means.

Once you let go of your preconceived notion of what success actually means, you will be better able to attract the very thing you were trying to attract before, but for all the wrong reasons.

We will say to you that in this next quarter, for financial picture, you will see a great deal of loss to a great deal of people who have been living in greed. You will see a great deal of loss to a great many people who have been living in a place of fear. You will see a great deal of loss to a great many people who have been living in a place of manipulation. On the other side, the other picture, you will be seeing people who are aware of how things function and work reaping the rewards of that awareness. This reward is not necessarily through being able to put those dollar signs next to your names. Rather, recognize that you have more than enough to continue the lessons and teachings that you are doing, recognize within yourselves that you have some of these lessons to learn first and then to teach to others, recognize within yourselves that you have a great deal of abilities that you are not doing anything with, for when you think of doing something with these abilities, you cannot yet define it. We are simply saying do what it is that you enjoy, and you will not need to be defined. It will come to you. We are saying to put yourselves out there in this world in ways you have never put yourselves out there before.

You are all most worried about those who give guarantees, and we are not recommending that you be some of them. We are recommending that you see what you personally have accomplished, and to promote whatever you are doing as that accomplishment. It is time for each of you to recognize what it is you wish to be accomplishing for self. In recognizing what it is you wish to be accomplishing for self, you will be creating within your own financial structure, a freedom that you have not had before.

Where the masses are concerned, you will see the extremes. You will see the poor and the rich. You will see the fact that the Middle Class, as you so nicely call it, seems to be dwindling. Yet it does not need to, except in the eyes of those who are controlling. When those who are controlling realize without the Middle Class they cannot control or get anything from them that they indeed would need is when they will suddenly be offering a helping hand to that same. economic group.

Keep in mind that for this particular quarter, many things will appear on the upswing.

Money will be spent more freely. Money will be more available than it has been before, and yet at other times, it will be very scarce. It will be up to you to learn the difference in what that means and what it means to you as an individual. We will tell you now that if you will all go to your core, recognize when you are there, there will be no issues for you personally, but you will be able to sit back and recognize how and what and where these things are affecting others. Is that clear?

Q So, what you are saying is that in order for us to have some kind of grip upon what is happening financially, we have to look within, we have to respect our own abilities and capabilities, and we have to trust that we will be taken care of?

You know we do not like the word 'trust'.

Q Then know we will be taken care of.

That is more correct. That it is not so much an awareness of these things, but a knowing of these things. It is not so much an allowing of these things, but an accepting of these things. Recognizing that you do not need to be taking care of self. You do not need to be going outside of yourself to be taken care of, but rather an understanding that you are already taken care of, so why not open and let it be.

RELIGION & SPIRITUALITY

This is the area where you will see perhaps more changes than you have ever seen before.

It is amazing to your species that they will pray when everything about them is falling apart, and there will be many things falling apart. So they believe in their God when they need their God, and they do not believe in their God when they do not need their God. You will find people seeking. You will find people searching. You will find people needing, on a level they have never needed before, some kind of sign or indication that everything will be okay. Pat, pat. There, there.

You will also discover that these people who are searching, in the ways that they are searching, will not care to listen for the answers that will be given. They will then take that energy elsewhere. In taking that energy elsewhere, they will only be adding to the problem and not finding a solution.

We will say to you who know how to listen to who is out there, and what it is they are saying, to continue to listen with your ears wide. Continue to hear what is being said and determine from a moment to moment basis, the direction of the information -- whether it comes from a place of love or whether it comes from a place of fear. When you can see that difference, you will have no difficulty understanding what we speak of. The charismatic who will be out to give the answers to the people who want those particular answers will be most obvious to those of you who have done the work. They will not be obvious to those people who have not. Again, we will say as a species, you seek out your God when you are in need, and you ignore your God when you are not. The charismatic speakers will be there to assist you in trying to find the God that you have been told about, that you have not personally experienced, that that indeed is the God that you are looking for. After all, if your Pope can Twitter, everything is possible.

We will say again that where spirituality is concerned, there will be movements there as well, and in those movements of spirituality, you will see just as many people joining in with the Lightworkers as you will be seeing people who are starting false Lightworker information. The ones who are starting the false Lightworker work you will understand right from the the beginning, it will be self serving. If it is self serving, you will know it is not correct. If it is serving of the individual, you know it is correct. That is the easiest yardstick to use to measure these.

It is a difference between those who will be bringing in light to be self serving, making the money, having the power, doing the manipulation, and those who will be bringing in the light for each individual in the individual way. The difference between those two will be obvious to the people who have done the work, and will not be obvious at all to those who have not.

If you see people out there who are struggling, by all means, offer them a hand. However do not preach. Do not convince. Do not try to convert. Rather, live who you are in your way. In living that, they will see. If they do not see, then they are not yet ready for the work that it entails. If they do not yet understand what it is you are doing, then they are not yet ready for the work it entails. It is a matter of recognizing that what is right for you is right for you in that moment and has nothing to do with anyone else. For more than ever before you are coming away from the one size fits all. For more than ever before, you are coming away from needing to be a part of the whole. The fact that you have country against country, and yet you are supposed to be loyal to your country makes no sense. If you have loyalty to your country, does that mean you have no loyalty toward anyone or anything else?

You think too often as a species as one against the other. We are saying to you it can no longer work that way. We are saying to you that there are things that will be happening. We are saying to you that those things that will be happening will be leading you on a new and different light path. You will know it is the right light path because it only has to deal with you. It does not deal with anyone else. It does not deal with any organization. It does not deal with any one thing. So the one thing that says you are entitled to do all things is the right thing. The one thing that says you are entitled only to do these things is the wrong thing. This again would be from an individual basis, for it is only wrong in the eyes of the beholder.

We will say to look in this quarter for false prophets. To become aware of those false prophets. It is not that you have to say anything against them, but what you need to do is ask the right questions about them. In asking those right questions, to get people to also ask the right questions so that they are better understanding of where these people, that are considering themselves by their own dictation 'prophets', coming from. Once you recognize that this belongs to them and has nothing to do with you, there will be no need of a following. If you have 'peeps', it will be because they want to be with you, not because they have to be with you because you are the only right answer.

DISCLOSURE AND ET'S

To offer Disclosure before people can think for themselves is foolish. To offer Disclosure when people are still fearful of anything that is different from them is not to any one's benefit. You, as a nation, cannot even get along one with the other – State to State, color of people to color of people, political viewpoint to political viewpoint – how can you be expected to be accepting of something outside your realm of understanding? There is coming a time when Disclosure must happen, for you are getting rapidly closer to being too destructive to be allowed to continue this course, but Gaia has stepped in first, and we will honor and respect what she chooses to do. In her shifting and changing, we will then determine where our part of Disclosure will come in.

As far as ET's are concerned, you know that we have been a part of all life on Earth since the beginning. You act as if it is brand new, and it is not. The only difference is, as you become more modernized in the way you do things, your electronic field, it is harder and harder to hide the fact that we have been around. You will still have people saying that we only appear to people up in the county of Maine, and why should anyone believe that? It is because you do not hear of the reports when we are appearing to others.

We will say, as we did in the last quarter, to look towards the skies for we will be there. If you have been paying attention, you have seen us. We will say, as we did in the last quarter, to know that since we are there, there is information that comes with it as well. The more people who can see us and not panic, the better. The more people who are aware of our existence, without the fear of that existence, the better. The more we can make ourselves known without frightening the little children, the better. All of these things are being worked on in a general way right now. As we said, we will wait for Gaia to draw her own conclusions. But we will say to all of you who are constantly looking at what has not happened to spend more of your energy on what has happened, to spend more of your energy on helping yourself make things happen rather than worrying if, when, why, and why not. So look towards the skies and we will be there. Look towards what you call the heavens, and you will see us. Then, when you are more in tune with the concept of who and what we are, we will say then look towards each other and see if you do not see us in others. You go by the false assumption that you walk the planet alone. You do not. We are capable of being part of your world in your way, but also look forward to when it can be who we are with your world.

Q One question I have is that there is this website called "Crop Circle Makers", and these fellows are holding out that they are the ones who have made all the crop circles. I am not sure that that is true. I wondered if you could give me any guidance in relation to that.

We would say to you to note the ones that have recently been discovered underwater and ask them how they managed those. We will say to you that although some have been copied, the ones that have been copied are obvious copies. It is like any other forger to want to take credit for the master's design. In your hearts, people know what came from people like themselves and what came from something beyond who they are. There are messages in each of these crop circles that are true crop circles, and you know by the way you are affected emotionally whether it is something that has been created by others of your species or rather it is something that has been created by someone outside of your species. As long as you trust your heart to measure that, you will be fine.

Recognize the publicity and notoriety these people are receiving by claiming to do what they have done, but we will say to you again to ask them how they managed the ones that are underwater that have recently been discovered.

Q I'm just curious about the fire season in New Mexico. It seems that... I know you told us that Gaia would be clearing things that need to be cleared, and I am assuming that part of the reason the fire started in Los Alamos so rapidly and it spread so unprecedentedly is because there is a lot of clearing to be done, and up there, there are reports of plutonium and other things being stored up there and I am wondering whether these fires are going to approach that.... At what point does the fire burn itself out, I guess is what I am wondering.

We will say the fire does not burn itself out. We will say instead that what happens and what is happening is for all of you to be taking notice and awakening to the natural things going on around you. Do you recall after what had happened in Japan with their nuclear plants, there was more talk of nuclear building?

M: Yes.

How can that be allowed? If one example was not correct, then we will give you three. And that is exactly what is happening now to make everyone aware of the problems that can happen when you deal with things you do not understand. You do not allow your children to play with matches, and yet you allow yourselves to play with things that you know create havoc. So since you cannot learn in one way, we will give you three ways. If you cannot learn in those three ways, we will give you six ways. If you cannot learn in those six ways, we will give you twelve ways. We will continually be reminding you of what needs to be learned because of who you are, because of where you have chosen to live, because of what you have chosen to do. You must continually be reminded of what it is you are indeed doing, and no longer be allowed to continue with your head in the sand about what could happen, and that, of course, this never would happen.

So if you will, recognize it from that particular direction, with the understanding that we have already said that these disasters are happening in areas for the reasons of the area and have nothing to do with the natural disasters. The fires are there for the things that must be burned away. The flooding is there for the emotional things that must be washed away. There will be areas that will need both. You will have a very heavy rainy season when it comes, and because of the fires, there will be a loss of your topsoil.

Another way of instructing you of what you have been doing without paying attention. You have been over-chemicalizing what it is you use to grow your food. We will say that those people who are involved in light work will be recognizing there does not need to be a food shortage. If you will start seeing how you are fed in energetic ways, instead of just physical ways, you will discover how you can change your body shape and size. You will discover how food is not as necessary for your sustenance upon the planet as you think it seems to be.

All of these are lessons that Gaia is now teaching you. We will see whether her choice of the teaching will assist. If it doesn't, there will be other lessons to come, but for now we are hoping to say pay attention. We are hoping that indeed in your paying attention, you will understand. We are hoping that in your understanding, you will once again recognize then what and how to do the next step.

Q The question is, is there something that we're missing with regard to manifesting since we know we've been doing the work, that we need to know?

We would say we are here. We have said this before, and yet you are still waiting for bigger. You want bigger than us. We would say that we are always here. We would say that we have been working with you,. We would say that in our working with you, you already have more power than you've before. Because you are choosing not to use the power that is here has nothing to do with the fact that we indeed are here.

We would say where your manifestation is concerned, it is because you have been continually, even now, determining your manifestation based on things, based on the material, physical, third dimensional limitation of a singular thing, like a dollar.

We are saying when you will be manifesting your feelings, then you are doing it correctly. When you will be manifesting your understanding of how you wish to feel about your life, then it will be happening. You have all the power that you need to call on for what is happening. You have more than enough power around you to manifest in a thought moment. You have more than enough power around you to manifest at any time any given thing. But first you must come away from the whole concept of limitation of manifestation. As long as you are limiting yourself to the very concept of manifestation, you will never manifest.

We will say when you start emitting the feelings you wish to send out and have returned to you is when that manifestation happens. When you start sending out what you wish to receive, then you receive it. When you are sending out the positive thoughts and feelings of love, compassion, understanding, then you are receiving the same. It is when you are continually thinking about manifestation that you block manifesting. You cannot think about manifesting, you simply create it. You cannot think about what you wish to manifest, for then you put a limit on it immediately. You cannot even bring into your thought process the thinking around manifestation, because that by its nature limits what it is that you are saying on another level you are hoping to manifest.

We will say all things are happening now. Whether you are seeing them, we do not know. Whether you are open to let them in, we do not know. And we do not care, for it does not belong to us. It belongs rather to you to understand that you manifest when you stop trying to manifest. You manifest by simply being. You manifest by sending energy and receiving it back again. You manifest by being comprehensible about what is going on around you at any given time. You manifest by the expectation of deservedness. You manifest by coming away from limiting your experience to what it has been in the past without the understanding of there are no limits in your future. Your concept of manifestation must be changed in order to work. Does this make sense?

RECAP

Let us sum up: In this next quarter, before you are heading towards the end of your year of 2011, in this quarter is both the loosening of the old structure and the redesigning of the new. In this changeover from one to another, what is happening is a shaking up of expectations. So rather than worry, (which you are all so very good at) rather than giving over your power to others, (which you are also very good at) rather than limiting your expectations of deservedness, (which you are all very good at) we will say to you, for a change of pace, to start recognizing your attachment with All. Find a way visually or in any other way, find a way to go within your core self and find your comfort zone.

Know while you are in there, you are calling all things to you. Then, in that case, we would say to be cautious what you are wishing for, for the Universe is quite literal.

We will also say before we leave you, that it is time now to truly become the light workers that you have been studying to be. There is no initiation. There is no quiz. There is no test that must be taken. There is simply the knowing within self of how to work within and how to work without. There is simply the understanding within self of how you operate when you are in your state of Beingness, and how you operate when you are in your limitation of your 3D world.

In the recognition of how these things work for you, you have your superpower, we will call it, of light, and the utilization of this light to create what it is you desire for it is all done through the concept of frequency and vibration.

We will say before we leave you that it is time for you to be acknowledging within yourself the fact that you are already a light worker. The fact that you are already capable of whatever and whenever you choose to be capable. If you go somewhere without the object of your desire, know that you are still taken care of. If you wish to learn more about yourselves on any level, we will say find your sources, but make sure that you choose what you decide to invest in through your inner knowing instead of your outer logic. As you do this in this quarter, as these things begin to change and shift, you will discover that in this quarter, you will be opening to what it is that you have been asking for for a very long time. So that by the end of this quarter, so you are looking at September, you will be finding yourselves on new paths that are much more lucrative for you, not always in the sense of money, but in the sense of creating and manifesting what it is you say you wish to do.
